FOSTER WHEELER WINS ENVIRONMENTAL RETROFIT AT SPANISH POWER PLANT

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, April 4, 2006 -- Foster Wheeler Ltd. (Nasdaq: FWLT) announced today that Foster Wheeler Energía, S.A. (FWESA), part of its Global Power Group, has been awarded a contract by Hidroelectrica del Cantabrico (HC) to supply and install new low-NO_x burners and to upgrade the mill classifiers on Unit #1 at HC's Aboño power plant in Spain. These modifications will permit HC to meet European Union emission regulations.

The contract, valued at approximately US$6.6 million (€5.4 million), will be included in the company's first-quarter 2006 bookings.

The two boilers at the Aboño plant, rated at 360 electric megawatts (MWe) and 540 Mwe, respectively, were originally supplied by Foster Wheeler. They were designed to fire local bituminous coal and blast furnace gas and were commissioned in 1973 and 1985. In 2005, Foster Wheeler was awarded the contract to upgrade the burners of Unit #2, the newer of the two units.

"This is another important win for Foster Wheeler," said Eric Svendsen, chief executive officer, Foster Wheeler Energía, S.A. "It reinforces our leadership in the Spanish environmental equipment market where, to date, we have won seven environmental retrofit projects since 2004. In addition to demonstrating our client's continued confidence in Foster Wheeler's products and services, this latest award extends our long-term relationship with Hidroelectrica del Cantabrico, a very strategic customer."

2. Safe Harbor Statement

This news release contains forward-looking statements that are based on management's assumptions, expectations and projections about the Company and the various industries within which the Company operates. These include statements regarding the Company's expectations regarding revenues (including as expressed by its backlog), liquidity, the outcome of litigation and legal proceedings and recoveries from customers for claims, and the costs of current and future asbestos claims, and the amount and timing of related insurance recoveries. Such forward-looking statements by their nature involve a degree of risk and uncertainty. The Company cautions that a variety of factors, including but not limited to the factors described under the heading "Business—Risk Factors of the Business" in the Company's most recent annual report on Form 10-K and the following, could cause the Company's business conditions and results to differ materially from what is contained in forward-looking statements: changes in the rate of economic growth in the United States and other major international economies, changes in investment by the power, oil and gas, pharmaceutical, chemical/petrochemical and environmental industries, changes in the financial condition of customers, changes in regulatory environment, changes in project design or schedules, contract cancellations, changes in estimates made by the Company of costs to complete projects, changes in trade, monetary and fiscal policies worldwide, currency fluctuations, war and/or terrorist attacks on facilities either owned or where equipment or services are or may be provided, outcomes of pending and future litigation, including litigation regarding our liability for damages and insurance coverage for asbestos exposure, protection and validity of patents and other intellectual property rights, increasing competition by foreign and domestic companies, compliance with debt covenants, recoverability of claims against customers and others, changes in estimates used in critical accounting policies. Other factors and assumptions not identified above were also involved in the formation of these forward-looking statements and the failure of such other assumptions to be realized, as well as other factors, may also cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Most of these factors are difficult to predict accurately and are generally beyond the Company's control. You should consider the areas of risk described above in connection with any forward-looking statements that may be made by the Company. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. You are advised, however, to consult any additional disclosures the Company makes in proxy statements, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, annual reports on Form 10-K and current reports on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
